I recently received, as you well commented on your letter dated December 21th 2004, a copy of de public review draft which is dated April 2005

I wish to thank you and ask you to congratulate on my behalf all those who participated in this important document which comprehends the update of hydraulic resources in the State of California, as well as the forecast for 2030; Making due note on the growing necessity of environmental preservation.

Thank you, once again.
